

I cannot believe that you would even consider imposing the federal "established business relationship" exemption for Indiana's Telephone Privacy law. Business relationships from how far back?; what is considered a business relationship?; How can all this be misconstrued. Please do not do anything so foolish as to loosen something that has worked so well for the public. The public is, after all, who you are working for, not just a few businesses.